

Teenagers

The Home Office reports 210,000 persons are reported missing each year and of this 100,000 are under 16 years old.
Our research indicates that the true figure could be significantly higher

A teenager may be missing for many reasons:

There are many cases of teenagers running away from home, whilst not intending to cause harm to those they run from, the stress caused to parents is immense. Teenagers may runaway for many reasons; they may not feel they have a good relationship with their parents, they may feel misunderstood, an outcast, have problems at school or work, they may be pregnant or involved in drugs or crime etc. Life as a runaway can be devastating as they are extremely vulnerable and can easily mix with the wrong crowd and become the victim of abuse, involved in drugs, crime or prostitution.

They may have been a victim of abuse, been abducted, involved in drugs or crime.

Having your teenagers' identity information to hand is vital, they are more inconspicuous when travelling on their own than a child and so their presence is more likely to go unnoticed. They may also be used to using public transport, widening the distance between themselves and home, making it more difficult for the authorities to trace them. With their identity information stored securely on a Rescue me cd™ you can immediately provide the police with everything they need, wherever you are in the world. The speed to do so could significantly reduce the time to find them and the likelihood of harm coming to them.

Teenagers do not just go missing from home; they can go missing when they are at school, boarding school, college, university, or youth organisation activities / excursions etc. Ultimately they have the responsibility of care for your teenager, yet they hold little, if any ID information. Should your teenager go missing, they must contact you for more details to pass on to local police, which wastes precious time. The Rescue me cd Family ID Kit™ contains 4 credit card CD's in total, so hand one to them that contains only your teenagers details. Greatly enhancing their capability to assist the police in getting them found safely and quickly, wherever they are!

The fingerprint, DNA and dental impression records captured from the Rescue me cd Family ID Kit™ will greatly assist the authorities in tracing your teenager, or if an unidentifiable body is found they are able to use this information to determine if there is a match.

We owe it to our teenagers to do as much as is humanly possible to ensure their safety wherever they are. Be proactive – be prepared!
